

The Business Law Faculty Invite YOU to be a Keller Law & Entrepreneurship Scholar, Spring Semester 2013!

Each Scholar will Receive a $1,000 Scholarship

About the Forum:

This spring, March 8, the Lewis & Clark Law School is hosting the Keller Law and Entrepreneurship Forum. The Forum is designed to give students and faculty the opportunity to meet with leaders of the business community and members of the practicing bar to discuss important business issues of the day. In spring of 2013, the Forum topics will involve discussions around Sports Law. The Forum begins with an informal lunch for scholars and professors, followed by the Forum, which is divided into two sessions, followed by a reception. The sessions will be moderated by Professor Lydia Loren and Interim Assistant Dean Steve Goebel, and will emphasize informal interaction among all present.

Selection:

A committee comprised of members of the business law faculty will select up to eight law students and two CAS students as Keller Law and Entrepreneurship Scholars. Any student who has completed their first year of law school is eligible to participate; however, preference will be given to those students in their final year of law school who have emphasized business law in their course selection. Undergraduate students must be in their junior or senior year; however, preference will be given to those in their senior year. Each Scholar must attend the initial planning meeting spring semester on Friday, January 18 at 12:00 pm, assist in selecting reading materials and planning the discussion for one Forum session, and attend both sessions of the Forum, which will be held on Friday, March 8, 2013, from 12:00 pm to 5:00 pm at the Law School. Each Forum Scholar will receive a $1,000 scholarship thanks to the generous support of The Keller Foundation, Richard B. Keller, Ruth Keller, Libby Keller McCaslin and Michael McCaslin.
