List below the requested information regarding a paper written to obtain a Certificate in International Law

To qualify for a Certificate in International Law, the student must write a paper that meets the criteria for a Capstone paper, and be one of the following:

- (a) a paper written to fulfill course requirements in a seminar approved for the Program,
- (b) an Individual Research paper, for a minimum of two (2) semester hours,
- (c) a paper written to fulfill the requirements of an externship, or
- (d) a paper written to fulfill course requirements in a seminar not specifically approved for the Program.

Students who plan to fulfill the writing requirements with options (b), (c), or (d) must submit this paper requirement with the advance approval of the topic signed by the Certificate Administrator, a faculty member.
Note: Papers not written for graded credit do not satisfy this requirement.

THIS PAPER CANNOT BE USED TO SATISFY ANY OTHER CERTIFICATE'S PAPER COMPONENT.
