GENERAL INFORMATION:

Just like a live seminar, you attend a webcast at a scheduled time, only you do it from a web page on your computer. Webcasts include video and audio of the speakers, slides, and seminar handout materials — all on your computer! As an additional value, all citations listed in the seminar materials will be linked via Casemaker to the actual cases in that library! They call this “CLE to Work” and we feel that it will help connect your CLE experience to the work on your desk.

After registration, you will be notified via email with instructions for watching the webcast. It is highly recommended that you test your computer system a few days before the webcast to make sure everything runs smoothly on your computer. Once you purchase the webcast it will appear in your online account under “Available Courses.” By clicking on the course title, you will open the webcast viewing page and a test video will be playing. You should see video and hear audio when the player page is open even before the date of the webcast. If you have difficulties with logging in or sound quality, you would call online support at 1-800-747-1719 or email support@bizvision.com.

You must view the webcast replay on the date it is presented to earn live credits. You have two months following the date of the original webcast to view the program. If you do not view the program on the live replay date, you will earn self-study CLE credits and not live CLE credits.

MATERIALS:

Online versions of the course material are included in your webcast registration fee and will be available as PDFs for viewing, downloading or printing during and after the webcast. For two months following the program you will also continue to have access to the materials linked to case law through Casemaker!

No-Shows:

Can't attend the live webcast? Register for the webcast and watch an archived video of the seminar at your convenience. The archived video will be available two weeks after the live webcast and you will have access for two months. A link to download and print the materials will be sent to those who fail to cancel in advance of the program. No refunds will be issued.
