

LEWIS & CLARK MARRIAGE, COUPLE & FAMILY THERAPY PROGRAM READING LIST

The following books and journals are suggested for those wanting to read materials and start a family therapy library that includes and goes beyond what is required in the MCFT program. There is no obligation or expectation that students will read these texts outside of the classroom. The books on the list are primarily overview texts rather than model specific. As you determine which models you are interested in, you are welcome to ask for further suggested readings. Additional texts are also likely to be required in the program. This list is not exhaustive and is provided simply to help students choose what we consider some of the most relevant overview readings and readings that reflect the diversity and social justice emphasis in our program and the field. Many of the books on this list are available through the Lewis & Clark library.

JOURNALS:

We suggest browsing through journal articles to familiarize yourself with what is being written in the field. This is an important source of information about family therapy. It is free and also offers you examples of how professional papers are written.
