In November 2014, voters passed Measure 91, adding Oregon to the small list of states allowing the personal use and possession of recreational marijuana for adults in the face of federal legal restrictions. With legalized possession just around the corner and licensing of retail stores to begin in 2016, whether you are an attorney, consultant, retailer, or government official, this seminar will provide the practical advice you need to know.

Attendees will hear directly from leading practitioners and officials on the impact Measure 91 will have on businesses in Oregon, how they can prepare for the new legalized marijuana industry, and and issues still to be resolved via legislation and regulation.
