- Demonstrate a sense of balance between law school scholarship, her fellow students, and her personal life.

Specific Statement

Submit a specific statement that addresses how you meet the criteria stated above. Note: While the Krista Koehl Selection Committee will receive a copy of the financial information you submit on the Scholarship Applicant Information Form (SAIF), we suggest you also include a narrative demonstrating your financial need in your specific statement.

Scholarship Recipient Responsibilities

- Write an acknowledgement to the Krista Koehl Scholarship donors and selection committee. This scholarship will only be applied to tuition once an acknowledgement has been received.
- Agree to provide an update on academic career and/or post-graduation accomplishments when requested by the Law School Development Office.

About Krista Koehl

Krista Koehl graduated from Lewis & Clark Law School in 1999. She reached tremendous heights professionally and was still on her way up when she was taken away too soon on September 6, 2013. She was widely recognized as a rising star and leader by all who knew her, and made a profound impact on the lives of those around her. Krista was a mentor to many, cultivating the best in her employees, colleagues, and friends. She took her professional and civic duties seriously and was relentless in her promotion of increasing professional opportunities for women.
