

Criminal Justice Reform Clinic Application Process

Participation in the 2020-2021 Criminal Justice Reform Clinic (CJRC) is limited to 8-10 students.

Please read the 2020-2021 CJRC course description before submitting your application:

https://law.lclark.edu/courses/catalog/law_758.php

Due to the enrollment limitation, we have instituted an application process. There may also be interviews. If you would like to apply, please submit the following information to the Registrar's Office via lawreg@lclark.edu in one PDF document:

- a statement of interest explaining why you want to participate in the Clinic; this should include any specific criminal justice area of interests you have (if you are open to everything, that is ok);
- a writing sample (no longer than 5 pages);
- a resume;
- name of your 1L Lawyering Professor;
- a list of past or current legal internship, externship or volunteer positions including your upcoming summer (2020) position if you already have one (if not, that is ok); and
- one reference.

Deadline

Please submit the above application materials to the Registrar's office via lawreg@lclark.edu no later than 9am Wednesday, March 25, 2020 (during spring break).
