

NOTICE OF FILING

Lewis and Clark College has a position available for an Assistant Professor of Law.

The successful tenure-track applicant will be responsible for the following: carry the normal teaching load for the law school, including fulfilling all other teaching and service responsibilities required of tenure-track and tenured faculty. The assistant professor's academic year's course load will normally be two courses per semester.

Classes the Assistant Professor will teach include, but are not limited to, the courses listed below.

International Climate Change law
Energy resources
Environmental Justice
Administrative Law

Hours: full-time, 40 hours per week.

Minimum requirements: US-JD, US-LLB or Foreign Equivalent as alternative to a US JD/LLB

This notice is being provided as a result of the filing of an Application for Permanent Alien Labor Certification with the U.S. Department of Labor for the job described above and is provided in compliance with 20 CFR § 656.10(d). Any person may provide documentary evidence bearing on the application to the address of the Certifying Officer of the Department of Labor at:

Atlanta National Processing Center
Harris Tower
233 Peachtree Street, N.E., Suite 410
Atlanta, GA 30303