

TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE (TA): RESTITUTION

Recent Examples:

After the sister of a child-victim of homicide was denied her legal status as a crime victim, she was then subject to an arbitrary cap on her restitution, NCVLI's legal team fought for her rights in the Arizona appellate courts.

Recognizing victims in Montana were being denied their right to restitution, NCVLI created a sample motion so that attorneys across the state can fight to secure this right.

When a Michigan domestic violence victim had to flee her home and her job, NCVLI worked with the victim's attorney to secure restitution.

When a sex trafficking victim's federal court-ordered restitution was at risk of being challenged post-conviction by the defendant, NCVLI offered the victim's Iowa attorney strategic advice to prepare for the possible challenge, which included how the child-victim could participate.

To request Technical Assistance from NCVLI, please visit this link.

To learn more about NCVLI, visit www.ncvli.org.